New GC roadway deteriorating

HUNDREDS OF POTHOLES are plaguing the northbound lanes of Maryville Road between the 3000 block and its intersection with Stratford Lane. Both Illinois Department of Transportation personnel and Madison County Highway Superintendent Lester Miller are investigating the problem.

Samples have been taken by the IDOT and are being studied. This view is looking southward along the affected portion of the roadway. The unmarked surface of the southbound lanes in the background is apparent.

The plague of small potholes along northbound lanes of Maryville Road, installed during the summer and fall of 1978, is being investigated by the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Madison County Highway Department, according to Lester Miller, superintendent of the county department.

"Samples from the conical holes were taken from the street in early winter by officials of IDOT and are being examined and tested in the department's laboratory in Springfield," Miller said.

He added that "a soft aggregate was found at the bottom of the potholes when the samples were taken."

Glen Sawyer, IDOT District Eight materials engineer, is awaiting the findings by the lab. He will notify Miller, and then a decision will be made as to what measures need be taken to alleviate the problem.

Miller declined to speculate on possible solutions.

The Maryville Road project was a joint venture by the county and the city of Granite City. In the agreement, the city is responsible for maintenance of the street.

In work coordinated by the county, a four-lane road was built from Route 203 (Nameki Road extension) to Pontoon Road. In a related phase later, a contractor poured four lanes of concrete roadway from Pontoon Road to Highway 162.

The potholes are confined to the Maryville Road area from the 3000 block north to the Stratford lane area, and have been detected only in the northbound lanes, which were the first to be poured in that portion of Maryville Road in August 1978.

The southbound lanes were added in October of that year, and have had no potholes forming to date.

Miller cautioned that "solving the problem could be further complicated if similar potting of the road begins to show up in other areas or if other problems are encountered."

Arrested in South

JERRY LEE McCABE

County will aid Florida in prosecution

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron has pledged to aid Florida authorities in any way they need in the prosecution of Jerry Lee McCabe, 26, of the 3900 block of Central Lane, who was arrested last week and charged with assaulting a woman in her motel room in Palm Bay, Fla.

McCabe, who is free on bond from St. Clair County, faces a maximum penalty of two consecutive lifetime terms in prison in Florida if he is convicted of sexual battery and burglary charges there. He is being held without bond near Cape Canaveral, Fla., until a preliminary hearing before a judge, which is set for Wednesday, April 16.

Sexual battery, a charge Florida uses for all rapes, attempted rapes and sexual assaults, does not allow for bond, until a preliminary hearing. At the hearing, the judge could either set a bond or refuse to set one, authorities said.

State's Attorney Byron told the Press-Record in Edwardsville Tuesday, "We have received word from Florida of McCabe's arrest for allegedly assaulting a woman in a motel there and my office stands ready to assist the authorities there in any way they request."

McCabe has been in the news in this area since his initial arrest in a Feb. 27, 1978, rape case in which a 16-year-old girl was struck on the head with a pipe in the parking lot of Granite City High School South and was dragged to a car where she was raped.

McCabe was subsequently convicted by a jury of rape and armed violence and was sentenced Aug. 15, 1978, to serve 20 years in prison. He also was sentenced to prison time for pleading guilty to aggravated battery in connection with a March 9, 1978, incident in which a woman entering her Gaslight Walk apartment building in Pontoon Beach was approached by a man who held a tire tool in his hand.

The jail time served awaiting trial was sufficient to satisfy the prison term on the Pontoon Beach case and his parole has expired, local authorities have been told.

The Appellate Court in Mount Vernon subsequently overturned McCabe's conviction in the rape case and remanded him for a new trial. The jury in that trial found him innocent March 13 and he was released from custody.

He was arrested again six days later in Belleville in connection with two incidents. He was charged with impersonating a police officer and possession of marijuana after he allegedly displayed a badge in Belleville and ordered an 8-year-old boy to get in his car. The boy refused and the auto left the scene when a crowd began to gather.

The boy gave officers a description of the car and McCabe was arrested a few blocks away, authorities said. They alleged finding a small amount of marijuana in his car.

He also is suspected of having entered the ladies' restroom at Belleville Area College in St. Clair County the same day and has been charged with disorderly conduct in connection with that incident. He is free on bond in both cases.

He arrived in Palm Bay, Fla., March 30, and purchased a car, authorities there said.

Quad-City voters will go to the polls again Saturday, this time to elect school board members in the three area school districts and the Belleville Area College district.

Polling places will open at noon and close at 7 p.m. Voting results will be reported at the respective school district offices.

In Venice School District 3, voters will name three out of five candidates to Strike in third day

Production at the A.O. Smith Corp. plant was shut down early Tuesday morning as approximately 650 workers went on strike due to a dispute over terms of a new contract.

The production employees, members of Local 1715 of the United Auto Workers Union, left the plant at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday and set up picket lines at the plant gates.

Both union and company officials reported today that no further contract talks have been scheduled and that representatives of the U.S. Mediation Service will arrange future meetings.

Negotiations have been under way since mid-January, but union spokesmen said the talks became stalemated "on virtually all issues."

High winds, rain in area

While a tornado passed to the north of the Quad-City area, damaging a number of homes in and near Godfrey Monday night, heavy rain and high-gusting winds swept this area with only slight damage.

A freak wind tore down a carport at the home of Rose Osborne, 1408 Edwardsville Road, flinging parts of against the house and breaking a window. That damage occurred about midnight, an hour and a half after tornadoes struck the Florissant area in St. Louis and the Godfrey area north of here.

There were no other reports of major damage in this area. Rainfall records at the Chain of Rocks locks showed 57 of an inch of rain fell during the storm period. Because of the tornado, police sounded sirens in Granite City at 10:25 p.m. and again at 11:23 p.m.

The storm and tornado caused an estimated $1.3 million damage in Florissant and St. Louis County, according to the American Red Cross.

According to the National Weather Service, a total of 41 tornadoes was reported between Monday noon and Tuesday night, including 14 in Arkansas, six in Wisconsin, four in Missouri, three in Oklahoma, three in Michigan, three in Texas, two in Illinois, two in Mississippi, two in Indiana, one in Kentucky and one in Kansas.

Chiropractor sues Smith

A Granite City chiropractor, Dr. E. L. Strotheide, has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court against A. O. Smith Corp. and two of its employees, Dick Jobe and John Goldsach.

In the suit, Dr. Strotheide contends that the men, representing Smith, made repeated comments in public between March 1978 and the date the suit was filed.

The suit alleges that persons were told that a doctor was "a quack," a "con man" and a "rip-off artist" and had no license to practice.

The comments, according to the suit, damaged Dr. Strotheide's name, credit, reputation and business. He seeks "reasonable and proper" compensation in excess of $15,000 in each of the six counts. Two counts are against each of the three defendants.

Smith strike

approved a strike vote at that time, the union entered the contract on a day-to-day basis until late Monday.

The walkout occurred about two weeks after an additional 300 workers at the plant were laid off because of declining orders for auto frames.

Those layoffs brought to about 700 the total layoffs during the past year, according to company estimates. Herzog said about 800 have been laid off during the past year.

A.O. Smith manufactures auto frames for larger Chevrolet models.

Herzog said the union is asking increases of 85 cents an hour the first year and 50 cents for each of the following two years. He said the company offered 12 cents the first year and 10 cents for the next two years.

The union leader said the proposal by the union was based on that of the company's home plant in Milwaukee. They wouldn't talk about what the Milwaukee workers already have. He said the union "didn't want to strike, but they have offered us nothing."

Herzog said the company's latest offer "would make second-class citizens of us."

ELKS EASTER activities, shown clockwise from the top left, included visiting children in the pediatric ward of St. Elizabeth Medical Center; giving fresh flowers to nursing home residents (patients were visited at The Colonades and the Colonial Haven nursing home); giving candy to nurses of the care facilities; staging an Easter egg hunt for about 80 children of Elks members; and rewarding children for their efforts in the hunt. Jim Rush portrayed the Easter bunny, aided by Exalted Ruler George Irwin and other members and wives. The weekend activities also included an Easter bunny coloring contest, with 20 children competing.

Elks brighten the Easter holiday for many

Photos by Burel Schmisser

Easter is a special time to most people, and members of Granite City Elks Lodge #1063 do their best to see to it that it is a special time for some who cannot be with their families for Easter.

Besides helping out at the annual Easter egg hunt for members' children, the Easter bunny accompanied Elks members in visits to the children's ward at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, to The Colonades and Colonial Haven nursing homes and to the homes of 24 children.

The special weekend started with an Easter bunny coloring contest at the lodge Friday evening, April 4. Twenty children competed and received awards in various age groups. After the competition, the children helped color 30 dozen Easter eggs.

On Saturday morning, April 5, work started at 8 a.m. as candy trays were prepared for the nurses' stations at the medical center and the nursing homes. Eggs then were hidden in Wilson Park near shelter seven for the lodge's annual Easter egg hunt. About 80 children participated in the hunt and prizes were awarded in three age groups.

After the egg hunt, the children helped consume 170 hot dogs and 12 gallons of soft drinks.

Easter morning started close to sunrise, as Easter Bunny Jim Rush and Mark Goldenberg delivered Easter baskets to 24 children of families selected by the Salvation Army.

At 10:30 Easter morning, lodge members met at St. Elizabeth Medical Center to begin their tours of the children's ward and the nursing homes. Candy and eggs were given to the children and flowers were given to all the senior citizens visited at the nursing homes.

Participants in the activities, besides Rush and Goldenberg, were Exalted Ruler George Irwin and his wife, Dorothy, Trustee Harold Rush and his wife, Margaret, Burel Schmisser, Secretary Bill Russell, Esquire Mike Curren, Norbert Homyer and Charles and Jane Parkinson.

John 6:37 "... and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

The world seems to be filled today with seekers. People, running to and fro, in a frenzy. The problem... no one seems sure of what it is they are seeking for.

May I remind you that we are God's creation; that we are and were created for the purpose of worshipping God. There is nothing on earth that will satisfy you for a long period of time. The reason? You are not worshipping God in spirit and in truth.

Hear the word of the Lord: "He that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out." One prayer, in sincerity, will bring peace that passes understanding to your soul.

Will you come to Him Today?

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK is proclaimed by Mayor Paul Schuler, urging Granite Cityans to join the Granite City Board of Realtors in observing the event from April 13-19. At left is Elmer Goode, Carl Hoffman is at the right.

Proclaims property week

Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed April 13 to 19 as Private Property Week in Granite City and has urged citizens to join with the 700,000 realtors(R) and realtor-associate(R)s nationwide in marking the observance.

During this annual event, which carries the theme "Protect Them," the Granite City Board will offer a week of community-oriented programs and activities designed to call attention to the constitutional right to own real property.

In his proclamation, Mayor Schuler noted that "we not only have the right to own real property, but we must all assume an individual responsibility to guard this prerogative from any infringement, political or personal."

Mayor Schuler said the right of the people to own real property "is a cherished legacy bequeathed to us by our colonial forefathers, and one which carries a concomitant obligation to preserve this land upon which our lives depend."

Mayor Schuler described the occasion as "a time for everyone to take an active part in appropriate and significant programs that will help make Granite City a better place to live and work."

Big clean-up here Saturday

Approximately 1,200 Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts from the Quad-City area will participate in the second annual clean-up campaign, Stash the Trash day, on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Sponsoring the campaign are the Community Pride Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, McDonald's Corp., Pepsi-Cola Co., and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Organizing the event are Paul Mihailich of the Chamber of Commerce, Ned Freeman of the Boy Scouts and Myra Parrish of the Girl Scouts.

The headquarters for the clean-up campaign will again be First Granite City Savings and Loan, 1529 Johnson Road.

The clean-up effort will be directed at downtown areas of Granite City, Madison and Venice, as well as various shopping centers throughout the area and highways leading to and from the cities.

The Free Spirits REACT CB group will be on hand for communication in case of an emergency. Local Explorer groups will assist at the several soda stations that will be set up throughout the clean-up area.

All those participating will be treated to refreshments provided by McDonald's and Pepsi-Cola Co. Each scout will also receive a patch for his or her contribution to the city and the state.

The children will be supervised by troop leaders and their assistants.

Trucks for hauling the trash will be furnished by the city and the state.

McDonald's will provide trash bags.

Last year the participants picked up 4,000 bags of trash equaling 32 tons. The sponsors are expecting about the same results this year.

School, college voting

Larry Melton are urban candidates, while E. Dewey Melton, Maxwell, Gargac, Mrs. Gates and Luehmann are rural candidates. Not more than two urban candidates may be elected.

Granite City school district voters will ballot in 13 precinct polling places, all of them located in school buildings. The Board of Education office will be open Saturday to answer questions voters may have about where they should vote. The information will be available at 876-6600.

Five candidates are seeking three board posts in Madison School District 12. Two incumbents, Board President Sam Dymas and member Frank Eaves are among four candidates seeking two full three-year terms. Challenging them are Evelyn Holt and Viola Lewis. James Newsome is unopposed as a candidate for two remaining years of an unexpired term. Newsome has been serving in the term which was vacated due to the death of the late Elvers Johnson.

In the Venice election, Incumbents Jack R. Tolliver, Wilbert Glasper and Earl Hogan are seeking re-election to three-year terms.

Also seeking those terms are Gregory Katana and John Mangiatracino, while George Wade Jr. and Bernard C. Hogan have each filed for a one-year unexpired term in Venice. Wade has been serving in the post by appointment.

In conjunction with the regular school election, voters of Venice School District 3 also will vote on a proposition to transfer $134,000 from the district's special education construction fund to the operations, building and maintenance fund.

School Superintendent Robert Vickers said a simple majority is required for passage and approval of the proposal which will not cause any increase in taxes for district property owners.

Transfer of special education construction funds with voter approval was made possible with the passage of House Bill 668 which was signed into law by the governor in July 1979.

The Venice district originally had intended to accumulate enough funds to construct a high school TMH center for the Region 1 special education co-op. As enrollments decreased and priorities changed, it became clear that the needs of special education students could be met without the needless expenditure of these funds, Vickers said.

The school district discontinued the permissible 4-cent tax levy in 1974, Vickers noted.

The regional superintendent's office has certified to the State Board of Education that the needs of special education students in the Venice district are being met and the state board has given its approval to submitting the proposition to district voters.

Vickers said the Venice Board of Education is urging a yes vote on the proposition.

Four candidates are on the ballot for two three-year terms and four candidates are seeking one-year term on the Belleville Area College board of trustees. Since the BAC district embraces all of the Quad-City area school districts, voters may ballot on the BAC board candidates in their regular local district precincts.

Candidates for the three-year terms are Avery Schermer of Granite City, Curt Ecker of Belleville, Everett E. Sakoko of Belleville and Norman W. Sheble of Belleville.

Running for the one-year term are Michael Hildebrand of Granite City, Elizabeth Jenner of Mascoutah, Ronald Krause of Belleville and Ronald Hageman of Belleville.

Schermer, who was appointed by the BAC board to finish out the year when Robert Harris resigned, is a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area.

In Madison district voting, voters will cast ballots in four precinct polling places. Precinct one will be located in the Junior High School building at Third Street and Alton Avenue for the area from Fifth Street south to Bend Road and the Eagle Park area and from State Street to Maers Industrial Park.

Precinct two balloting will be at the Harris School, Seventh Street and Alton Avenue, for the area from Sixth Street north to Elizabeth in the 1200 and 1300 blocks and from State Street to the industrial park.

Precinct three will be located in Blair School at College and Mercedo Streets for the area west of State Street to Weaver Street, and Precinct Four will be at Dunbar School at Jackson and Third Street for the area between Weaver Street and Highway 3.

Venice voters will ballot in two precinct polling places. Residents of Precinct One will vote in the Venice High School gymnasium, covering the area inside the Venice city limits, and residents of Precinct Two, that part of the district outside the city limits, will vote at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building.

Granite Cityans will vote at the 13 grade schools serving their neighborhoods. Emerson, Frohardt, Johnson, Lake, Logan, Marshall, Maryville, Mitchell, Namecki, Niedringhaus, Parkview, Webster and Wilson.

Prosecution

a motel next to McCabe's said a masked man forced his way into her room, held a pillow over her head, forced her to undress and then assaulted her. She was not raped.

The man then tied her feet and hands, gagged her and removed several items from her room before leaving her naked and screaming on the bed. Officers alleged finding a mask and several items from the woman's room in McCabe's auto when they arrested him.

The victim said she worked about two hours to loosen the gag in her mouth and then she screamed for help.

Detectives there said the woman was not injured during the assault.

It has not been determined whether McCabe will be returned here in the near future to answer charges pending against him in St. Clair County, or whether authorities will wait until charges against him in Florida have been disposed of.

McCabe and members of his family have told reporters that they feel police in this area, particularly Granite City detectives, have been harassing McCabe recently. "The police are all over me," he is quoted as having told a reporter.

He was quoted as saying the police have no reason for suspecting him in recent attempts to abduct children from the streets after school and is quoted as saying, "I can't say that."

Mrs. Tappel, 89, dies

Mrs. Emma J. (Mombert) Tappel, 89, of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, an 83-year resident of Granite City, died at 2:10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

She had resided at the nursing home for eight years. Mrs. Tappel had been ill for two years and was hospitalized for 12 days.

She was born in St. Louis on Jan. 26, 1891, and came to this area at the age of six.

Mrs. Tappel was a member of St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church and also belonged to the Royal Neighbors of America.

Her husband, John Tappel, died in 1955. He was a member of the Granite City Police Department for 30 years and served as chief of police from 1935 to 1949.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Jake (Evelyn) Metcalf, Huntington Beach, Calif.; five grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Blooming mill breaks record

Granite City Steel has announced that its Blooming Mill set an all-time monthly record in March, rolling 166,816 slabs of steel, beating the previous record of 166,389 tons set in November of last year.

The mill rolls steel ingots into slab form.

GC Steel president James V. Stack voiced

"congratulations to our Blooming Mill personnel for their fine work."

"The order book right now does not look good, and with the uncertain business outlook for the months ahead, it is vital that we perform to the best of our ability in all areas so as to control and save costs."

Teamsters ask County Housing recognition

An "informational demonstration" was called by Teamsters Local 525, Alton, against the Madison County Housing Authority at 1609 Olive St., Collinsville. Teamsters Business Representative David McFarland said pickets were set up on Tuesday at the main office of the Housing Authority to voice employees' desire for union recognition by the MCHA board of commissioners.

A formal request for union representation was made a RESEARCH PROJECTS CHOSEN FOR FUNDS. The Graduate School at SIUE has announced the winners in this year's Research Scholar Award competition, according to Vaughnie J. Lindsay, dean. The winners are Richard L. Millett, professor of historical studies, and Ronald E. Viola, assistant professor of chemistry.

Winning research projects will be awarded up to $7,500 in direct costs plus one-third released time for the researchers during the next academic year. Millett, expert on Central America, will use his award to produce a book entitled "An End to Stability: Central America 1969-1980." Viola's proposal, "Role of Metal Ions in the Structure and Function of Plant Lectins," has the long-range goals of understanding the interactions of lectins with sugars on the surface of malignant cells and how that interaction affects cell growth.

Canoe outings topic April 14

Larry Tucker, outings chairman for the Sierra Club's Piasa Palisades Group for the last two years, has put together a program on canoeing. It will be given at the monthly meeting of the group on Monday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, 4th and Alby streets, Alton.

The first part of the program will deal with canoe safety. The second section will be concerned with the joys of canoeing; a film will be shown to convey the excitement of the sport.

The final part of the program will be a slide program about past Sierra Club outings. A trip to the Buffalo River in Arkansas will be featured.

The group's new canoe trailer and four new canoes, as well as other equipment, will be on display at the meeting. Refreshments will be served after the program, and the public is invited.

Madison pre-school screening and kindergarten registration

Madison public schools will conduct their annual screening of three, four and five year olds April 15, 16 and 17.

To register a child for kindergarten, the parent must present a birth certificate or some legal proof of date of birth, plus the child's immunization record, and pay a $1-registration fee. The parent will be given health cards so that physical and dental examinations and immunizations can be completed before the start of school.

The School Code of Illinois says that "no child will be permitted to enter kindergarten until proof of physical examination and immunization record are established."

U.N. MEMBERS

All children upon being admitted to kindergarten, or prior to admission to any public, private or parochial school in the Illinois school system, or upon transfer from another school system, must present an immunization record and evidence of a physical examination.

The immunization record is to include inoculations for diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, poliomyelitis, measles and rubella.

Registration for three and four year olds' screenings will be by appointment. Included will be screening of vision, hearing, speech and language, as well as general growth and development.

The screening is a free service and will take about 30 minutes. For appointments, parents are to call Blair or Harris School between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on weekdays.

The screening schedule will be:

Trailblazing, conservation and restoration by Illinois youths

Twenty-three months ago, the Illinois Young Adult Conservation Corps opened its doors to unemployed and unskilled youths of Illinois, as part of one of 35 grant programs in the United States, designed to provide youth employment in addition to improving, maintaining and conserving natural resources.

To date, 2,400 young adults, 16 through 23, have served in the corps, undertaking a diversity of work that has both eased youth unemployment and completed projects that might have otherwise not been accomplished for lack of personnel.

The youths have been active in a majority of the state's counties.

Since the inception of the program, the work accomplished has been appraised at $10.8 million, or 142 percent of the $7.6 million expended in the same period.

IVACC administrator Scott Fisher said, "The program's impact is reflected in the quality and magnitude of projects for which the corps has been responsible."

In a synopsis, Fisher went on to list 2,538.32 acres of timber stand improvements; 215,576 trees planted; 260.34 miles of trails developed; 36 projects and 36,750 manhours in historical site restoration; 553 projects and 31,000 manhours in wildlife habitat improvements, including foot bridges, picnic shelters and work buildings, and 84,714 hours of sandbagging during last year's flood season.

Although much of the work has been conducted on state lands, the corps has managed to provide service to 38 communities, including the Cook County Forest Preserve and park districts in Springfield, Decatur, Peoria and Rockford.

With expansion continuing, the corps has acquired work sites in Rock Island and Moline.

Although the main premise of the program is geared toward providing work for youths, it has also developed a training program that has achieved a 60 percent placement rate, of which 27 percent have been directly placed as a result of their participation in the program.

With 59 percent of the youths lacking a high school diploma and few having marketable work skills, 400 have received career guidance and job preparation in workshops; 250 have decided to continue their education by obtaining a General Education certificate.

Those who choose not to continue their education will have been afforded the opportunity to become familiar with a work ethic that will benefit them in future work endeavors, Fisher notes.

The IVACC program has also helped ease the burden of youth unemployment, which Labor Department officials estimate for the 1979-80 fiscal year to be 10.6 percent for young adults 16 through 23 who actively seek employment.

"With continued existence of the program contingent on federal funding, the program has proven itself in combating joblessness and protecting natural resources, in addition to the cost benefit for taxpayers," Fisher concludes.

NAMEOKI BURGLARY

Items valued at about $175 were stolen from a vacant house in the 2300 block of Nameoki Road. Mrs. Howard Shelton, East Alton, the owner, told police at noon Wednesday. Glass in a door was broken to gain entry. Taken were a clock radio, six pairs of curtains, a planter, bedsheets and pillows, a candle and a flower.

UNDERCOATING—RALPH'S TEXACO 22nd & MADISON AVE.

DRIVE-UP LANES are added at the Colonial Bank of Granite City, Pontoon and Maryville roads, Monday afternoon. Bank President Donald Van Horn, left, Henry Ross, center, building committee chairman, and Roger Fountain, general contractor for the project, review the plans for the addition. Two additional lanes are being built to accommodate more drive-up customers. One will be for autos and will be under an extension of the present canopy, and the second will be without a canopy to accommodate campers, vans and other tall vehicles. "The vacuum transfer machine also will be mounted 'eight inches higher on the high vehicle lane for an easier reach by those customers."

Madison Cable TV progressing

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Madison city officials met Wednesday with Tom Miller of Valparaiso, Fla., whom the city has hired as a consultant for the Madison cable TV system.

Plans have been in progress for the past several months to install an ultra-modern cable TV system that will include many alarm systems, such as fire, burglary and even have the potential for adding a medical history computer printout.

The alarm and emergency system is one of the primary motivations for Madison installing the cable system.

A stand map of the city has been made showing where the cable will be located.

Next week Com-Search Co. workers will arrive in Madison and take test signals from several locations within the city.

An estimated 2,000 homes will have the opportunity to install the cable TV system.

Cost to the resident wishing the system has not been determined yet. The new system when completed will have an audio override, whereby in the case of emergencies, such as a tornado, the police department or civil defense may broadcast warnings and instructions to the community, having the system, regardless of which channel they have tuned in.

The entire system is being designed for future expansion and the city will be able to sell the signal to neighboring communities. During the next 30 to 45 days specifications are being developed for soliciting bids from various cable TV equipment manufacturers.

The television channel selections have been made and in addition to the six stations in the area now a few of the new ones will be added.

CBN Christian Broadcasting Network; CNN Cable News Network which will have 24 hour live news broadcasts; WSIU, Channel 8, Carbondale, an educational station.

Nikeledeon, a special channel for young people, which will have programs for preschoolers during the day and teen oriented programs at night.

KTVU from Oakland, Calif.; SPN, Satellite Program Network which features old time movies and documentaries;

ESPN, Entertainment Sports Program Network which will feature both live and taped sports.

WOR from New York City; WGN of Chicago; NOAA which will feature Associated Press news with a continual weather update on a split screen.

C-SPAN, which will broadcast the United States Senate and House of Representatives session in Washington D.C.;

PTL, Praise The Lord, and NCN, National Christian Network, both religious programming.

HBO Home Box Office and Showtime, both premium programming, will also be available.

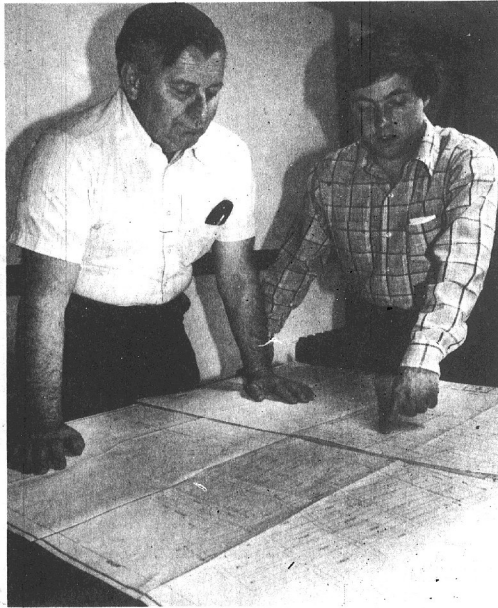

City officials are also trying to obtain at least one ethnic network.

Cost of the cable TV system is estimated at about $50,000.

Tentative plans for raising the money will be by selling of bonds. These will be repaid from the subscribers fees.

For the Telecom alarm system monies are expected to come from a State of Illinois grant.

City officials have expressed belief, after studying other city operated cable TV companies, that the citizens in Madison will be able to have the best in television, provide better protection and produce some revenue for the city.

Penny sales tax cut wins 158-1

The Illinois House voted 158 to 1 yesterday to reduce the state share of the sales tax on food and medicine from three to two cents per dollar, sending the proposal to the Senate.

Gov. James R. Thompson said he believes the reduction is affordable for the state government. The sales tax was five cents—four for the state and one for cities—until being reduced by one cent on food and drugs a year ago.

Under the new proposal, it would total three cents, including two for the state and one cent for the city or county in which the sale takes place.

Also on Wednesday, the Illinois House Revenue Committee voted 20-1 to exempt up to $1,000 in interest on individual savings accounts from the state income tax. This would save citizens up to $25 in yearly taxes.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Richard Gibson, 20, of 2026 Missouri Ave., bumped his head during an auto accident and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was released after treatment.

PANAMA TREATY

The United States signed a treaty with Panama Nov. 18, 1903, giving the United States perpetual lease on a 10-mile strip across the isthmus.

Construction of metal coating plant underway

Construction of a new 100,000-square-foot metal coating plant has begun on the west side of Route 3 in the Mitchell area and the new industry is expected to begin production within a year.

Currently, site grading is underway for Pre-Coat Metals, a division of Ironmoly-American, and foundation work should start within two weeks, the Press-Record has learned.

The company estimates it will complete the plant in the first quarter of 1981, and when full production is underway, the plant will employ 60 to 80 persons.

Galvanized steel coils from several suppliers, including Granite City Steel, will be cleaned and covered with a protective coating and a decorative coating before being recoiled and shipped to other manufacturers.

The coated steel then is formed elsewhere into panels for pre-fabricated buildings. The largest customers for the panels are manufacturers of agricultural buildings, it was learned.

The Pre-Coat plant here also will coat regular steel for special orders.

Initial plans call for construction of one building, but the possibility of additional buildings in the future is under consideration, if the market warrants expansion, company sources said.

The initial building will be constructed of metal panels identical to those which will be coated at the plant when it is completed. Efforts also have been made to make the new building energy efficient, with insulation and an incinerator with a boiler to reduce the heating costs.

Pre-Coat Metals is the first industry to locate in the new Northgate Industrial Park being developed by Illinois Power Co. A $3,186,000 building permit has been obtained for the building's construction.

Venice town OKs budgets

By PAT FOLEY
of the Press-Record

Budgets totaling $273,680.43 for Venice Township was approved by its electors during the annual town meeting held at the Venice City Hall Tuesday afternoon.

The total includes $33,495 for the township road and bridge budget and $240,185.43 for use by the township.

A breakdown of the town budget shows appropriations for the town fund to be $109,300. This is $275 higher than the budget presented at the meeting which reflects an increase in the appropriation for assessor schooling.

The original budget allowed $125 for this use, but the item was changed after a brief discussion. Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger, the Venice township assessor and she will be attending two training sessions for tax assessors this year.

Attending the annual meeting were Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, Town Clerk Edward Gray, trustees John Plechinski and Earl Mosley, and attorney Nick Vasiloff, who was elected moderator for the meeting, and Mrs. Reidelberger.

The budget includes $77,950 in the general assistance fund, $22,947 in the federal revenue sharing fund, $29,000 in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and an appropriation in the Title II Anti-recession fund of $87.

The road and bridge budget was read and approved by the town electors. Then the annual town meeting was called to order by the moderator and the town budget was unanimously approved after the change in the assessor's schooling appropriation.

Also approved by the electors were the salaries of the employees and elected officials of the township and the rehiring of Nick Vasiloff as the town attorney and the approval of his salary.

The appropriation for the annual payment to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area and Regional Planning Commission, which is normally $775, was noted by Supervisor Pashoff as being lowered to $500. He explained that the "township is not financially stable financially stable this time, but if the funds become available the difference could be paid."

38th hotcake forces GC man to surrender

Richard McClaine, 2137 Grand Ave., now holds the area record for eating six-inch hotcakes in McDonald's "hotcakes hullabaloo," David Eads, manager of the Granite City McDonald's Restaurant, announced yesterday.

McClaine ate 38 hotcakes, each about six inches in diameter and with butter and syrup yesterday morning, topping the record of 23 set in Collinsville last week.

McClaine started eating about 9 a.m. Wednesday and finished about 11:30 a.m. Unfortunately, his record of 38 hotcakes in two and one-half hours falls short of the record in the Guinness Book of World Records which is 62 six-inch hotcakes consumed in less than seven minutes.

The "all you can eat hotcakes hullabaloo" will continue through April 18 at the 11 area McDonald's restaurants.

28 candidates for 13 school, college board positions

Quad-Cityans on Saturday will choose 13 education board members from among 28 candidates. At each of the polling places, which will be open from noon to 7 p.m., there will be simultaneous voting for Board of Education members and the Belleville Area College board of trustees.

In the Granite City school district, no more than two of the three winners can reside within the urban area, regardless of the number of votes cast, any number of rural candidates can be elected.

Urban candidates are President Donald W. Stucke, Secretary George E. Moore Sr. and Larry W. Melton. Rural candidates are Edward Dewey Melton, Robert "Bob" Maxwell, Donald L. Gargac, Mrs. Janelle "Julie" Gates and Charles Luehmann.

Three-year terms (until November 1983) will be filled, and there are four holdover board positions not affected by this Saturday's election. The incumbents seeking re-election are Moore, with 15 years of board service; Stucke with 13 years, and E. Dewey Melton, with three years.

With one, two or three rural area residents to be elected, these descriptive voters' attention include Dewey Melton, an IBM Corp. senior systems engineer who has experience on the board policy committee, the Title I Leadership Board and the Quad-City special education board. He advocates balancing the goals of quality education, reasonable pay and minimal taxation. He has been a conscientious, constructive board member.

Maxwell was a teacher, assistant principal and vocational education director in the Granite City school system before becoming general supervisor of training and development for the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation. His instructional, administrative and business background could help him encourage efficiency and educational soundness.

Moore, an urban candidate who is retired, devotes considerable time to school board matters, regionally, statewide and nationally. His managerial and educational experience have been assets to board discussions and decisions. The three named could serve effectively.

Another possibility would be two of the above and Pres. Stucke, who has his long experience on the board and his support for adjusting school spending to affordable levels. He has served as a director of the Illinois Association of School Boards and as an officer of its Large District Council.

In the Madison school district, James Edward Newsome Sr., a member of the board, is unopposed for a two-year unexpired term. The Madison High School graduate has studied administration of justice at Belleville Area College and McKendree College and has earned commendations for his work as a Madison County detective sergeant and as a member of the St. Louis metropolitan area major case squad.

Four candidates are seeking two three-year terms on the Madison County Board of Education, including President Sam Dymas, who has sought to upgrade school district procedures, policies and performance. His leadership in the past would emphasize educational needs and oppose excessive political involvement in the schools.

Of the other three candidates, voters may wish to consider Mrs. Evelyn M. Holt, who was the Madison schools' cafeteria director for nearly eight years and has been active in the Madison School Mothers Club and other school-related groups. She would emphasize educational needs and oppose excessive political involvement in the schools.

For a one-year unexpired term on the Venice School Board, we recommend George W. Wade Jr., who has several years of experience on the board. A Navy veteran and a local resident, Wade is a parent and is employed by the Security Division of Granite City Steel.

It will be important to continue the board search for candidates who have been in the school system for a number of years. Those with 13 years of experience are invaluable on a board that has been seeing considerable turnover. His knowledge of the school system also needs to be retained in view of the Venice district's difficult financial status, which requires all the policy-setting expertise that is available.

For the other two three-year Venice terms to be decided, our preferences are Secretary Wilbert Glasper, a construction electrician who has been on the board for three years and has worked diligently to expand his knowledge of school problems and needs, and Gregory W. Katana, a business manager of the Venice area who is employed, married and a father.

With eight seeking three positions on the Belleville Area College board, many Quad-Cityans are hopeful of retaining the board service of Avery Schermer of Granite City, a businessman who has prior experience as a college trustee and trustee.

For the second of two three-year positions to be filled, Curt Eckert of Belleville also is highly qualified. A six-year BAC board member, he served for two years as the board chairman.

For a one-year unexpired term on the BAC board, contenders include Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Mascoutah, an incumbent board member with extensive knowledge of educational challenges at the school district and college levels.

No fee to exercise citizens' right to speak or write

Unaware that a proposed Granite City business licensing law was vetoed March 25, Editor and Publisher magazine commented as follows in its April 5 edition:

"Six Latin American countries require journalists to obtain a degree from a specific university and belong to a specific union of journalists in order to qualify for a license to practice their trade."

"In Granite City, the City Council is a bit more commercial...just like to pay $25 to obtain their license to practice journalism."

Neglect of animals investigated

To the Editor:
The APA (Association for the Protection of Animals) is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to protect and help animals.

The APA exists strictly on donations from the public and money made from fundraising events, and receives no assistance from any other source such as the city, county or other government.

The APA provides service to the public, by finding lost dogs and cats through telephone contact and helps pet owners with problems and questions they may have concerning their animals.

The APA phone number is 877-4594. APA volunteers also investigate any cases of cruelty or neglect of animals which are reported by the public.

For clarification, the APA does not pick up stray animals, nor can it offer help on bite cases. This is the job of the City Humane department.

The goal of the APA at present is to finish the building shelter, an all-steel building with an unfinished interior. It will be used to house stray and unwanted animals in the hope of adopting them out to good owners and homes.

A similar point was made previously and has been acknowledged by the municipal officials.

MARGE FEMBERTON Secretary, APA

He was born and reared in Madison. He knows our people and our problems.

Dymas has served on our Madison School Board for the past three years. He has an outstanding job as a member and is doing a fine job as school board president.

He likes kids, he does a lot for kids, and he is someone we can talk to and trust.

My folks are for Mr. Dymas, and that makes me happy. I hope everyone votes for him Saturday.

The manager said each crew leader will supervise from nine to 13 enumerators or census takers in the national count.

In their training sessions, crew leaders have been learning how to recruit, train and supervise enumerators hired for this area.

Crew leaders appointed include Debra Hawkins, Ronald Luehmann, Gary J. Jankowski and Marie Krystof, all of Granite City.

Others include Fred Werneth and Douglas Garbs, both of Edwardsville, James Miller of Collinsville, Betty Baster of Bethalto and Nancy Byers of Highland.

Mrs. Ethel Moore dies

Mrs. Ethel (Smith) Moore, 84, a resident of Forest Park Manor Nursing Home, St. Louis, formerly of Venice, died at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at the nursing home.

She had resided at the St. Louis facility for four years. Mrs. Moore was born in Nashville, Tenn., and had lived in Venice for 50 years.

She was a member of St. Mark Roman Catholic Church.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Her husband, Claude Moore, died Jan. 17, 1978.

Survivors include one stepson, Robert Moore of Richmond, Wash.; a son-in-law, Joe Alberici of St. Ann, Mo.; two grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Preventive maintenance might have eliminated much of the cost to taxpayers for needed repairs.

3. Voted against 1979-1980 budget.

This was for the purpose of securing the welfare of the Granite City school system.

May I explain it in this manner: For the past two years, our school district has overstated its expenditures by one million dollars for the auditor in processing of workman compensation claims against the county government.

Spring quarter SUE enrollment totals 8,516, compared to 8,811 in the winter quarter.

The State Board of Elections ruled Tuesday that the top two write-in vote-getters for Republican apportioned judge nominations will be the two who will have retired from those positions, George Moran Sr. and Edward Eberspacher. If they reject the nominations, there is uncertainty over whether the GOP can pick ballot candidates to oppose Moore, Harrison and Robert Mays, the Democratic nominees. The Illinois Constitution provides for judicial candidates to be chosen at primary elections or by petitions.

Suit threat by Novich

Gary R. Novich, who opposes the candidacy of Sam Dymas for the Madison School Board in Saturday's election, said Wednesday he will file a Circuit Court suit to compel the board secretary, Richard Zeissel, to hold a hearing on Novich's objection to Dymas being listed on the ballot.

But Madison County Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. Briggs said today he has checked with the county clerk, who said it is not unusual for an additional petition signature to be filed.

Dymas' board president filed two lists prior to the deadline.

Novich said he interprets a conversation with Chuck Given, an Illinois Office of Education attorney, as ruling against supplementary filing of 14 names after the original filing; Novich alleges that the initial petition lacked sufficient qualified signatures.

Reached today, Given said there will be no determination by his office, instead, the question is up to the school board and, if challenged, the courts.

Body Attorney John Papa said, "There is no provision in the Illinois School Code for a hearing under the circumstances of this case."

Novich Sec. Zeissel has reaffirmed his position that petitions are in conformity with Illinois Code governing board elections, and that there are no legal grounds for taking the candidate off the ballot.

Supt. John Palchick and Zeissel said there have been no rulings and no contacts from the state office.

At the next board meeting, a motion was made and passed to abandon the plan of neighborhood school "board meetings." No adequate reason was given, although it was noted that attendance at the first meeting was low.

2. Establish buildings and grounds committee.

This was for the purpose of determining on a first-hand basis the conditions, quality of maintenance and, if any possible repairs not made which could result in major expenditures.

The reaction to my motion was a lack of a second, thereby denying me even the privileges of discussion on the issue. I considered it as contemplating a bond issue for the purpose of making needed repairs, due to deterioration of the buildings and equipment.

Preventive maintenance might have eliminated much of the cost to taxpayers for needed repairs.

Favors school board committees on buildings, budget preparation

To the Editor:
This month culminates one year of service for me as a member of the Granite City Board of Education.

I am a strong believer in the neighborhood school, where educators are aware of the local problems, both socially and economically. I believe this represents the feeling of the public at large.

The proposal is to move these four-year-old children in with junior high school students with whom they have nothing in common. To me, this seems to be less than a desirable situation.

I have taken a stand against and constantly oppose excessive numbers of board members attending out-of-town conventions.

I also deem it highly objectionable that expensive members are presented to the public in tidbits, such as: cash allowance shown in one place, as travel and hotel bills yet another.

This deprives the public of a true picture of the bulk overall expenditures of an individual member, and the total amounts to approximately $25,000 per year for school board members for travel expenses.

For example, one school board member attended a meeting in Las Vegas, Nev., for a negotiating seminar—and he wasn't even on the negotiating committee—a to you, the taxpayer, of approximately $1,000.

6. Political patronage hiring.

When I am opposed to patronage hiring generally, I am specifically opposed to patronage hiring of teaching personnel and I am a personal witness to such an incident.

I know for a fact that such a situation was involved in the recommendation of the personnel director and three administrators who recommended no hire; yet, this individual has publicly stated that a board member had promised she would be hired.

Over all the professional advice, she was hired. I consider this patronage hiring.

But the $37,000 per year telephone expenses. The telephone bill of the Granite City school system the load of a bloated school budget, with threats of increased taxes to cover spiraling per-pupil costs and teacher strikes? The ever-expanding costs for vision would have to be assumed as well.

Entire classrooms have told Schneider they do not want to practice vision, but their voices will not be heard unless taxpayers, whether parents of school-age children or not, send the word to their senators that for vision would have to be assumed as well.

Let's show him that we have to get himself out of this new cost trap before it snaps shut on his wallet—by telling the Illinois Senate to keep the schoolroom door closed to vision.

Taxes and inflation said to be causing Illinois farms to fail

President Jimmy Carter's proposed balanced budget for 1981 is an exercise in taxation rather than in government austerity, Illinois Farm Bureau President Harold B. Steele contended this week. "Spending and taxing our way into a balanced budget isn't how it works," Steele said. "It will do nothing to control inflation. In fact, it may contribute to it. "The proposed budget calls for spending $611.5 billion in 1981, or more than 7 1/2 percent above the government spending estimated for 1980," Steele said. "To balance the budget, Pres. Carter is increasing taxes with the lion's share coming from windfall profits and oil import fees. Both are indirect taxes on the American citizen. "Much of today's inflation is due to high taxes and government regulations. High taxes dampen business incentive, and regulations force businesses to spend billions each year. The net result is a continued drop in productivity.

"We have less product with the same amount or more money, and that causes inflation. "With high interest rates and increased cost of supplies, we have farmers who are finding it hard to hang on," Steele said. "Some of them are failing. It's now a matter of survival.

"We have to control inflation now," Steele said. "And we are not going to do it with a budget that is balanced with cosmetics that are designed to last just long enough to return the president to the White House this November.

"The government had better start thinking about balancing the budget by lowering taxes and lowering government spending, especially in its huge regulatory programs.

From now through June 1, area businesses will be contacted to purchase season subscriptions to the 180-51 Saint Louis Symphony centennial orchestral series through Operation Sound Decision, Edward J. Schnuck, centennial subscription chairman, announced Tuesday.

The corporate ticket drive is part of the "most organized and aggressive ticket campaign in the symphony's 100-year history," Schnuck said. "We must put forth our greatest effort for the centennial celebration."

At a gathering of 50 business leaders, Schnuck described the campaign and said it has each agreed to call on at least six businesses to purchase season subscriptions.

Last year, Operation Sound Decision was responsible for over 1,000 seats sold, generating $92,000. "This year," Schnuck said, "we expect nearly 300 businesses to purchase season tickets and to raise at least $90,000.

"For its centennial season, we want Leonard Slatkin and our Symphony to consistently play before standing-room-only crowds at Powell Hall like they did this past weekend.

"Other cities such as Pittsburgh and Minneapolis have consistently sold-out their symphony seasons on subscription alone and we need that same kind of enthusiasm and support here."

Operation Sound Decision is one of nine components in this year's season ticket campaign, including direct mail, personal contact and special efforts for renewing subscribers, attracting student buyers and newcomers to the area, and contacting former subscribers.

Incentives to potential season ticket buyers include improved lighting and parking, a free recording for all new season ticket orders mailed by May 31, and no increase in ticket prices.

The centennial orchestral season will begin Sept. 13 and continue through May 16, 1981.

EXAMPLES OF POTHOLEs along the northbound lanes of Maryville Road. Samples of the road material have been taken and are being analyzed by the Illinois Department of Transportation. These larger potholes are at the intersection of O'Hare Avenue and Maryville Road. A soft aggregate was found at the bottom of the holes by the IDOT. The concrete for the northbound lanes was poured during August 1978. The southbound lanes, in background, which are unaffected, were poured in October of that year.

Propose tuition cut for some graduate students

Graduate students from the St. Louis metropolitan area will be able to attend classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by paying the same tuition as Illinois residents if the SIU board of trustees approves a proposal on its meeting agenda today in Carbondale.

Under the proposal, graduate students from St. Louis and four surrounding metropolitan-area counties (Franklin, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis) could take up to nine hours of coursework at the same rate paid by Illinois graduate students.

They would be admitted on a space-available basis. The rate would be $73 a quarter for up to five hours of classes and $146 for six to nine hours. The out-of-state rate now is $219 and $438.

The new schedule would be effective this fall. Other SIUE items on the board's agenda include first readings of proposed increases in campus housing rates, the University Center fee, athletic fee, housing activity fee and part of the student welfare and activity fee.

The board also will consider an amendment to SIU's sabbatical leave policy and an honorary degree recommendation.

Only two items are up for action on a slim SIU at Carbondale agenda — an honorary degree recommendation and appointment of a community advisory board for WUSL-TV (Ch. 16) in Olney.

DAUGHTER NAMED HEATHER YVONNE

Advisory panel on health center reviewing goals

The fourth meeting of the Venice-Madison Advisory Committee on mental health was held at the Venice City hall last week. Sandra Becker-Warden and John V. Johnson, representatives of the Quad-City Mental Health Center, met with the committee. Members present were Evelyn Echols, John Henry Williams, Barbara Madison and James Harrell. Planning issues were discussed in regard to the group's objectives. It was recommended that "area needs assessment" data on mental health be summarized and reproduced for study by committee members.

Publicity activities were postponed until the group's goals reach further clarification. Discussion was held on membership on the committee, and efforts to gain wider representation will be made prior to the next meeting.

Plans were made to inform Venice Senior Citizens of the Advisory Committee's activities.

The next meeting of the committee is set for April 14 at 5:30 p.m. at the Venice City Hall.

Broccoli, cauliflower thrive in home garden

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

Broccoli, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts are members of the cabbage family that have been widely planted in recent years. All offer good yield potential in the home garden, but they do have some special requirements.

Broccoli will yield over an extended period of time when well grown. The secrets to success are good healthy transplants that haven't been subjected to extended cold temperatures or stress during growing, early planting, and good culture.

Space the transplants 18 to 24 inches apart in the row. Use starter fertilizer in the transplant water, and side-dress with nitrogen when plants are half grown.

Organic mulches will give weed control and better soil temperature and moisture conditions. Once harvesting starts, keep flower heads removed before flowers bloom out.

Cauliflower, too, needs to be planted early. Hot weather at heading time may prevent heading or lower quality.

Use good, healthy plants that have not been subjected to stress or extended low temperatures. These conditions cause premature heading or failure to head.

Plants should be spaced 18 to 24 inches apart, receive a fertilizer solution at planting time, and be given the best of cultural care.

Leaves should be tied over the top at the first sign of the flower head except for the self-blanching varieties. A fall crop started in early August may grow and produce better than the spring crop, as the heads develop during cool weather.

Brussels sprouts develop best in a cool season. When planted in the spring, sprouts develop in about 90 days, which are usually warm or hot.

These "sprouts" tend to be loose and fluffy and may be off-flavor. Plants started in early June will develop "sprouts" in the fall and these should be of better quality.

Regardless of the planting season, spacing should be at 24 inches and plants should receive regular watering.

What spray to use on fruits is a major question for home gardeners.

The University of Illinois Extension Service recommendations suggest either a "tank mix" or a "multipurpose mix."

"Tank mixes" involve buying individual pesticides and mixing them together in the tank. The basic ingredients for tank mixes are malathion, methoxychlor, captan and ferbam. Other materials that can be used for special problems are carbaryl (sevin), diazinon, sulfur and benomyl.

"Multipurpose mixes" are sometimes called all-purpose, general-purpose, or home orchard sprays.

These mixes contain a combination of pesticides designed to control a broad range of insects and diseases. A fairly common mix contains malathion, methoxychlor, and captan.

An advantage of the mixtures is that several types of fruit can be sprayed with the same tank, such as apples, peaches, plums, strawberries, grapes, etc.

Disadvantages are that multipurpose sprays are more expensive, they should not be applied during bloom, and they are designed to take care of only the average condition.

There are a few pests and diseases that require special treatment and will not be controlled by the mix. For these pests, a spray guide and additional pesticides are needed.

A word of caution: If the multipurpose mix contains carbaryl (sevin) — do not use on apples until a month after bloom.

The carbaryl causes fruit drop of apples if applied too soon after bloom. Also, read and follow directions on the package. The crop to be sprayed should be listed on the label.

Successful per control involves applying an effective pesticide in the right amount at an effective time. Thus, the proper mix is one of a successful spray program.

Gateway, CD Peters are honored

Gateway Drywall and Decorating, Inc., C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City have been awarded the Southern Illinois Builders Association safety award for a low incidence rate on the job in 1979. GC town meeting OKs funds for elderly

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City Township spent a total of $72,399 out of its five separate accounts during the 1979-80 fiscal year, leaving a balance of $128,649 in all accounts, Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer reported to the annual town meeting Tuesday night.

The annual town meeting, mandated by law, primarily involved routine business, but included a resolution authorizing Hagnauer to spend up to $20,000 during the current 1980-81 year for senior citizen activities. The meeting was held in the Township Building, 2060 Delmar Ave.

The 15 electors attending the grass roots session also approved the by-laws for the new year and approved a resolution authorizing the hiring of a certified public accountant to audit the township books.

The annual report, the major item of business, showed the township had a total revenue of $901,050 during the last fiscal year which ended Feb. 29.

Hagnauer reported that the town fund had total revenue of $378,244, including last year's balances, and income during the year. Against this, expenditures totaled $361,351, leaving a town fund balance of $16,892 as of March 1.

The general assistance fund had total revenue of $238,981 against which expenditures of $207,798 were made, leaving a balance of $31,193.

The report showed total revenues of $140,592 from total income of $201,560 in the federal revenue sharing account, leaving a balance of $89,967. Expenses in the anti-recession fund amounted to $1,278 against available funds of $1,403, leaving a balance of $125.

Municipal retirement fund expenses totaled $61,390. The fund had a total revenue of $80,862, resulting in a year-end balance of $19,472.

Hagnauer's town fund report showed payment of $28,040 in salaries and expenses to Hagnauer, Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse, Township Attorney William Schooley and Robert Stevens, city clerk.

These were $4,895 for salary and $10,000 expenses to Hagnauer, $13,900 salary and $1,200 expenses to Cruse, $4,619 as salary to Schooley and $225 fees to Stevens.

Salaries paid to deputy assessors and clerks in Cruse's office totaled $102,611 and expenses for the assessor's office amounted to $32,734.

Expenses of the township office, including repayment of $100,000 in anticipation warrants, amounted to $137,950. This amount also included $20,000 in insurance premiums.

Town fund expenses also included $7,221 paid for the collection of taxes and $3,210 paid to members of the Town Board (aldermen) as per diem fees for attending town meetings.

General assistance fund expenditures, including retirement of $50,000 in anticipation warrants, totaled $101,777, while withholding taxes and municipal retirement fees amounted to $18,242.

Assistance expenditures totalled $87,768, with $46,881 of the amount going for food.

Expenses from the revenue sharing account included $21,722 for maintenance and supplies at the township building and $36,070 for senior citizen services.

Payments out of this fund also included $50,000 for lighting the baseball and soccer field at South High School and $18,898 for bleacher seats at North High School, the report showed.

The $1,278 in anti-recession funds was used for salary payments and IMRF withholding fees.

Census forms vital to future of Venice

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The importance of everyone filling out the census forms in the city of Venice was stressed to the members of the City Council at a regular meeting Tuesday evening.

I want to ask all the aldermen to be sure and see that these census forms are filled out accurately and returned, Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

"I realize there are many personal and sensitive questions, but the answers are all kept confidential."

"Federal funds to our city, will depend on the forms being returned and filled out accurately. This could affect our schools, our police protection, all our city services."

"It is this simple: if our Venice people do not return them or fill them out correctly we will lose money. Our tax base now is so low it is beyond recognition. We must make sure we get our share of federal money," Echols noted.

"If anyone is needing help with their forms all they have to do is stop by city hall here and we will be glad to help them. I'd like to ask the aldermen also to render assistance to anyone needing help with the census form," Echols emphasized.

Attorney Larry Hartman was approved by the council as interim attorney for the city until the end of the fiscal year.

Hartman is the brother of the late Harry McInley, former Venice city attorney for several years.

A representative of the Urban League passed out fliers on the Venice Health Fair '80.

The event will be held on Saturday, April 26, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Venice Recreational Center. The purpose of the health screening is to provide early detection of potential health problems and to educate people in preventive health care.

Mayor Echols noted that all services were free and open to everyone, not just Venice residents.

Anyone in the general Venice area that needs transportation are being asked to telephone 877-2412.

The McKinley Bridge report for May showed a decrease of traffic by 1,145 vehicles compared to May 1979. A total of 300,255 vehicles crossed the bridge last month.

It was the opinion of the council that part of the reason for the decline was that many people are not working and more cars are being shared due to the cost of gasoline.

It was reported that the Venice fire department had purchased some new radios at no cost to the city.

Mayor Echols complimented the fire department members for all their help during the city's financial crisis.

Dog obedience class

An eight-week dog obedience class for novice dog handlers will begin Tuesday, April 15, at the Tri-City Area YMCA. The first class will meet at 8 p.m. for one hour; all other classes will meet at 7 p.m.

Don Gullette of Granite City will instruct the class, which is structured to teach basic commands. He has studied basic and advanced dog obedience and has bred and trained guard dogs.

Registration for class can be made by calling the YMCA at 878-7200. The fee for "Y" members is $10, and for non-members, $15. Those enrolling are to attend the first week without their dogs.

Rules and information will be given out at this session. The dogs should be at least six months old.

New IHSA plan threat to GEC grid champs

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — A new state high school football playoff plan unveiled Monday by the Illinois High School Association could have a direct bearing on the status of Gateway East Conference schools.

One of several points of the plan states that a conference must have six Illinois football-playing schools as members for its championship to automatically qualify for a post-season playoff berth. The Gateway East currently has five members, Granite City North, Granite City South, Edwardsville, Cahokia and Belleville Alhoff.

THE PLAN was approved Monday by the IHSA Board of Directors at a regular business meeting. The new rule for six-member conferences is scheduled to go into effect July 1, 1981. IHSA spokesman Jim Flynn said the number of six was arrived at as a compromise. "Prior to the start of the playoffs, most leagues were four or eight teams and some had six," he said. "After the playoffs began, there was a move by some schools not to stay in their old conferences, but find one they could easily win and thus make the playoffs. A team from an eight-team conference could move to a four-team one and have a better shot at making the playoffs. In the interest of fairness, the board settled on the six-team rule."

FLYNN said teams from leagues with fewer than six members would be considered for at-large berths beginning in the 1981 season. "Not only the champion," he said, "but all members."

ANOTHER POINT of the new plan calls for the possible enlargement of the state playoff series from five classes to six, beginning this fall if there are 78 or more conferences participating in the playoffs at the start of the season.

The move would expand the number of schools taking part in the playoffs at the start of the season.

Warriors bury North for city track crown

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South was able to spring a few surprises on crosstown rival Granite North here Tuesday. The result was a dual track victory over the Steelers, 33-63.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of all was the margin of victory for South's Warriors. I expected to win," said South coach Mel Bunting. "But not by this much. We were able to surprise them (North) in a few events."

One such event was the triple jump, where South's Scott Buhmann was the winner at 40'3". The surprise wasn't so much that Buhmann was able to win, but that North's ace leaper, Mike York, was shut out of any points. South's Collins was second and Dan Fitzgerald of North was third. "That one hurt," said North coach Harry Lang. "Mike's a fine jumper. He made the final at the Mineral Area Meet Thursday. But today, he just didn't do it."

York finished second in the high jump to Kevin Greene of South. Greene's leap was 6'2", while York's was 6'0". One area in which there were no surprises was the weights. South's powerful squad swept both the shot put and the discus throw. Mike Konzen won the shot put with a toss of 51'11". Tim Groves' throw of 45'4" was second, followed by Larry Reed's 45'7".

In the discus, Groves beat out Konzen, 134'4" to 126'6". Mike Matheis was third at 123'5". "We knew we'd get shut out in both shot and discus," said Lang. "South is just too strong there. We figured we'd be 10 points down from these events before we set foot on the field."

South's two mile relay team surprised North, winning in 9:28.5. Team members are Drew Geisler, Tim Dix, Jim McQuaid and Scott Buhmann. South's Steve Adams was a double-winner, beating out North's Tim Dudley in the 330 low hurdles and taking the pole vault with a height of 12 feet. Adams' time in the hurdles was 42.6, Dudley's 43.9. John Kelas of North was second in the pole vault at 11'6".

Kevin Buchanan of North won the 100 yard dash in 11.3 seconds. Dudley was second in 11.6. Don Keeling of South took third in 11.7.

South's Geisler won the 880 in 2:07. Jon Bunch of North was second (2:11) and Dix was third (2:15).

IN THE MILE, South's Dave Hausman was the winner in 5:01. Geisler was second in 5:05, followed by Dix in 5:11 to complete the Warriors' sweep.

Houston, as expected, was also the winner in the two-mile. He ran it in 10:38, followed by North's Bruce DeRuntz in 11:00 and Steele Paul Hoosier in 11:03.

As expected, North swept the rest of the relay events. The Steelers won the 440 relay in 47.8 (Doug Shepard, Dudley, Kelas and Buchanan). The same group won the 880 in 2:10. Bunch, Mark McWorter, Kevin Perkins and Glenn Thompson won the mile relay in 4:03.

Buchanan won the 220 in 25.6 followed by Kelas and Shepard, for a sweep by North.

"I'm sure we surprised North in the triple jump and the low hurdles," said Bunting. "We knew they'd be good in the relay events because their depth is so strong. In fact, because of that, I gave North a slight edge going in."

"I didn't expect to beat them that bad," he said. "I knew they had the depth and we had the quality kids. We still have a long way to go, but I'm encouraged."

North girls down Warriorettes 74-58

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North girls track team handed a Gateway East Conference dual defeat on crosstown school Granite City South here Tuesday, 74-58.

North won nine of the 16 events in the meet, raising its record to 1-1. South is 0-2. The North 440 relay team of Kathy Kalka, Lisa Kalka, Christi Gargac and Kathy Kalka was victorious in 2:19.6. Members are Cheryl Jateff, Lisa Kalka, Christi Gargac and Kathy Kalka.

South's Mosier won the 100 yard low hurdles and the 200 low hurdles. Her time in the 100 was 18.8, 38.0 in the 200. Jateff and Trina Davis of North were second and third in both events.

Epps of North won the 100 yard dash in 12.9 seconds. Gina Graham of South was second in 13.8. Votul was third, North's Jateff, Lisa Kalka, Votul and Gargac South was disqualified for a false start.

Skinner of South won the 440 in 1:07. DeRuntz of South was second. North's Cheryl Lauderdale was the mile runner in 6:45.4. Votul won the 220 in 31.3. Skinner was second in 31.5. North's mile relay team of Lisa and Kathy Kalka, Toni McCann and Denise Portell won in 4:58.2. South won the two mile in 14:06.

Trojans get first win

MADISON — It was a long time coming, Madison High's first victory of the season by the boys track team. But when it came, it was with relative ease.

Madison won a triangular meet here Tuesday, finishing with 92 points to Belleville Alhoffs 63 and Waterloo Gibault's 21.

The Trojans won 10 of the 16 events in the meet, including three of the four relay races. The two-mile relay team of Orlando Buckles, Troy Compton, Larry Ball and Ray Price won in a time of 9:44.3. The Trojans 440 relay team of Darnell Dixon, Charles Dixon, Charles Fuller and Troy Butler won in 49.5. Fuller, John Andrews, Buckles and Price teamed up for Madison in the mile relay and won in a time of 4:03.

"I'm pleased with the way we've progressed," said Madison head coach Charles Steptoe. "We're a young team. It's good to win, though I feel good for him."

MADISON'S Troy Butler was a triple-winner. He won the long jump, the triple jump and the 22 yard dash. His distance in the long jump was 20'2 1/2". His leap of 43'9 1/2" in the triple jump easily won the event for him. The closest competitor was teammate Darnell Dixon at 35'10 1/2". Butler ran the 220 in a time of 24.5. Charles Dixon was second in 25.73. Most of the sprints were also won by Madison. Charles Dixon won the 100 yard dash in a time of 11.4. Fuller was third for the Trojans.

Buckles won the 440 yard dash in 58.3 seconds. He was followed by teammate Fuller in 59.3. EXCEPT for the jumping events, Madison was shut out of first places the field events. Trojan Cartell Hamilton won the high jump with a leap of five feet.

Number of Althoff won the shot put with a toss of 37'10 1/2". Jeff Robertson of Madison was a strong second in the event. He had a distance of 37'3". The Trojans also picked up a third place from Orlando Simms, who had a toss of 34'9 1/2". Robertson was also second in the discus. Clero of Gibault was the winner at 112'2". Robertson had a distance of 106'9". Madison's Bernard Harper was fourth at 105'.

THE TROJANS picked up a third in the long jump from Charles Dixon at 18'11". Harper was third in the pole vault with a height of 7'0". Terrence Haynes of Madison took second in the 120 high hurdles in 19.4. Hamilton (2:27.1) was second in the 880 to teammate Ray Price (2:22.5).

The only relay Madison did not win was the 880. Althoff won it in 1:44.9, while Trojans Andrews, A.C. Ware, Elmer Collins and Harper were second in 1:48.9.

Trojanettes win triangular meet

MADISON — The Madison high girls track team ran its record to 2-0 here Tuesday with a triangular win over Belleville Althoff and Waterloo Gibault.

Madison eked out a 61 1/2-60 win over Althoff. Gibault finished with 41 1/2 points.

Madison did the hard way — without many first place winners. The Trojanettes won six events, but had enough second and third place finishes to come out on top.

IN FACT, the meet wasn't decided until the final event of the day, the mile relay. Madison's Traci Parker, Lenora Williams, Venita Davenport and Veronica Williams came out on top in a time of 4:05.6. Althoff was a distant second at 5:07.3.

Madison's other winners were individuals. Parker won the 440 yard dash in 1:02.38 seconds. Gloria McNeil took the 220 in 28.6. Kim Williams won the shot put with a toss of 32' 1/2". Darlene Bennett won the discus at 81'1" and Veronica Williams won the long jump with a leap of 15'1 1/2".

Madison had plenty of second place finishers. Karen Lapinski was second in the two-mile run at 17:47.8. She was far back of Gibault's Row who ran it in 13:56.25. The Trojanettes' 440 yard relay team (56.3) was second to Althoff's time of 55.8. Madison's 880 relay team was also second.

Rose Clay of Madison

came in second in the 100 yard dash in a time of 13.4. Croty of Althoff won in 12.8. Leesa Lovett took a second for Madison in the 2:55.0.

Kim Williams was second to Bennett in the discus and Lenora Williams was second in the high jump.

Devils lose

E.S.T. LOUIS — The Venice High baseball team dropped its season-opener here Tuesday to East St. Louis. The Red Devils, however, came back to score four runs in the top of the second to again claim the lead, 6-4. It was the last Venice saw of the lead.

Lincoln scored five times in the second, twice in the fourth and five more times in the fifth. Venice scored two runs in the third. James Cox was the starting and losing pitcher. Venice, going all the way, Tony Fowler was the winning pitcher.

Venue catcher Reggie Ware was two-for-three at the plate and scored two runs. Dan Fleig was one-for-one and scored twice.

State champ Cahokia holds off South, 8-4

For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The weather conditions were less than favorable here Tuesday. The sky was a gloomy gray overcast and the temperature had dropped to a brisk chill which was lowered by a gusty wind. Nevertheless, the Granite City South girls softball team still prepared for its season opener.

What could be more of a problem? The Warriors' opposition. In the first outing of the year they were pitted against the defending state girls softball champions, the Cahokia Comanches. With no recourse, Granite South felt the experience of the state title holders, dropping its home opener 8-4 at Wilson Park.

"In practice we looked pretty good," said South head coach Pat Yates. "But it's kind of tough to start the season with the state champs. It was the only time we could fit them in." With its backs against the wall in the first contest, the Warriors held their own at least through four innings. Jumping on top, the Comanches sent a lone runner across the plate in the second inning which could have been the only score they needed. Cahokia had its ace on the mound, Robin Lee, who had thrown no-hitter the week before at Alhoff. But the Warriors paid her throwing abilities a curve of their own. At least they tried.

Bagging out a single in the opening frame and another in the third, South seemed to feel the ball but yet was unable to score. "It will take a little while for our hitting to come around," said Yates. "As soon as they get their timing we should be alright."

Timing was the key factor in the Warriors' fourth, as they managed to connect for a single — just at the right time. Aided by a couple of walks and a hit batter South had a golden opportunity with the bases loaded. Tina

Seiders stepped to the plate and jumped on the first pitch that sent two runs home and the Warriors' first and only lead in the contest. "Robin (Lee) has pitched better," said Cahokia head coach Teresa Brewer. "The weather and the wind had a lot to do with it."

While her teammates took care of the offensive output, South starting pitcher Karen Spencer proved to be the stopper, holding Cahokia to one run on one hit through four frames. Even though experiencing some brief wildness, Spencer did manage to strike out three batters while only walking two. "She has had a marked improvement over last year," said Yates.

But just when Spencer had begun to find a groove, the Comanches put an end to the Warriors' thoughts of a victory. Finding the gap for three hits in the fifth, Cahokia was blessed with three Granite errors and cashed in for five tallies and a lock on the game.

Making a bid for a late comeback, Granite added runs in the sixth and seventh but its hopes were snuffed as Karen Macios' deep fly ball was caught by the rightfielder for the final out of the contest. "We connected for some good balls," said Yates, "but unfortunately they were hit right at people. I think first game jitters had something to do with it too. It will be a couple of years before we get strong." With just the first game of the year, the Warriors drop to 0-1 on the season.

South to host colleges

GRANITE CITY — The "home field" for the baseball team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for next Tuesday's (April 15) doubleheader with the Bears of Southwest Missouri State won't be its usual beautiful Cougar Field near Bluff and Poag Roads.

In a move to take collegiate sports to surrounding cities, it was decided to play Southwest Missouri on the well-groomed and newly-lighted field at Granite City South High School.

Host for the pair of games, which over the years have always been bitterly contested, is Granite City South's baseball coach, Conrad (Babe) Champion. Babe has two sons who are members of the Bears' team—Kirk is a pitching coach, and Keith is Southwest's starting catcher.

Playing for the Cougars of Coach Gary (Bo) Collins is another duo of outstanding baseball players from Granite City, knuckle ball hurler John Lakin, a graduate of GC South, and infielder-outfielder, Tom Greco, a freshman who played his prep baseball at North High. Jerry Logan, an ex-Edwardsville prep star hurler, also plays for Southwest.

Stars are named for IBCA North-South cage classic

GRANITE CITY — Lovejoy High School of Brooklyn leads teams with players named to the Illinois Basketball Coaches' Association Class A South All-Star team. Two Wildcats were named to the "first team." No other team had more than one named. However, Lebanon with one "starter" could have an alternate, if another starter is declared ineligible.

Cahokia downs South

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
CAHOKIA — The only thing that marred Granite City South's Gateway East conference opener against Cahokia Monday was a devastating six-run, six-hit sixth inning. Other than that the Warriors were sparkling. Unfortunately for South, though, Cahokia's return from the dead in the sixth was enough to make everything the Warriors did before that point, that much more forgettable. Thanks to the last-minute rally, the Comanches spoiled South's first conference game, handing them a 7-4 loss.

"I don't know what happened," South coach Babe Champion said, trying to explain his team's late-inning swoon after leading the entire game. "We had a 3-0 lead going into the sixth. Maybe we just thought we had it in the bag."

Whatever the reason, the Warriors' demise came suddenly and was over quickly. South's starting pitcher John Vrenick entered the sixth inning and thereby became the longest-tolling pitcher in any Warrior game this season.

But Vrenick, South's only senior hurler, was apparently spent by the sixth, as the first three Cahokia batters in the inning reached safely. Although the Comanches lead-off hitter in the inning, Keith Kollack, was erased at second base on one of a handful of slick defensive plays the Warriors pulled off, the stage had been set.

After Cahokia's Terry Cline and Paul Jackson sent hard line drives down the third base line, and Greg Malone had walked when Coach Brian Baer came to bat.

Jackson, Cline, and Malone scored and Baer stopped at third only after he had moved over after being relieved on the mound, couldn't handle the ball, and Baer scored to make it 5-3.

MAC registration

Again this year, there will be a big summer of ball diamond activity for youngsters aged seven and older at Mitchell Athletic Club facilities on Moreland Drive between East Chain of Rocks Road and Interstate 270.

Plans call for about 200 boys to play baseball in a program coordinated by Myron Marx and for 260 girls to compete in softball in leagues directed by Lillian Singer.

Age brackets for the competition are nine and under, 10-11 and 12-13. For girls, there also are age groups of 14-15 and 16 and under.

Registration for both boy and girl players will be conducted on the next two Tuesdays, April 15 and 22, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Mitchell Grade School gymnasium.

The 1980 seasons are to begin about May 15 and there will be an opening day parade along with various festivities and ceremonies led by Gordon "Piccolo Pete" Routh.

Mitchell A.C. is the Quad-City area link with the Khoury baseball program, and post-season playoffs will start July 20 in Missouri, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky. Harry Breckner, club president, reports.

"Our approach is to fund all the teams and to make sure that everyone who wants to participate is allowed to do so, not just the top athletes," Breckner comments.

South sops unbeaten

CAHOKIA — The Granite City South sophomore baseball team remained unbeaten here Monday with a 7-2 victory over Gateway East conference foe Cahokia. South's record after the victory is 4-0.

The young Warriors broke out on top in the third inning with three runs and added a fourth in the fourth frame. Cahokia came back with two runs in the bottom of the fourth.

South added two runs in both the sixth and seventh innings. South's Dave Madrusic was one of three Warriors with two hits. He also had two RBIs. Darren Angle and Joe Schmeckle each had two hits, with one of Angle's a double.

Steelers washed out

WOOD RIVER — Granite City North's scheduled game here Wednesday with Wood River High was postponed because of rain.

According to North Athletic Director Bryan Wilkinson, the game has been re-scheduled for Thursday, May 15 at 4 p.m.

Tri-City opening

GRANITE CITY — The Wood River Sprint Car Series will officially open the 1980 racing season at the Tri-City Speedway this Friday and Saturday nights.

Doug Wolfgang of Sioux Falls, South Dakota heads an impressive field of the fastest sprint car drivers in the United States. Wolfgang, current point leader in the Wo's has already won over 12 feature races thus far this year including the Southern Sprint Car Nationals in Gibbstown, Fla. and the Midwest Sprint Nationals in Dallas, Texas.

Sammy Swindell, 4 of Memphis, Tenn. is currently in second place behind Wolfgang.

Warm-ups will start at 6 p.m. on Friday with time trials set for 7 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m. with the winner of the feature taking home the first place prize of $2,000. A complete show will also be held on Saturday.

Man held in car theft

A man who abandoned a stolen automobile in Nameoki Road Monday afternoon and fled on foot was arrested by police hiding in an attic closet in the Kirkpatrick Homes area and is being held for investigation of the car theft.

Police reported that a green 1964 Chevrolet passed an officer who was investigating an auto accident at Nameoki Road near Pershing Avenue at 12:55 p.m. Monday.

The driver stopped the car at Pershing and fled on foot. Witnesses told the officer the man had gone to the rear of a home in the 2500 block of Nameoki Road. Other officers were alerted.

A resident at the Nameoki Road address told officers a man had come to the back door and asked for a drink of water, then ran away. Later area residents told police they had seen a man walking toward Nameoki Road.

Officers said they saw the man walking through the Kirkpatrick Homes area.

The man was seen by residents as he broke down the door of the educational building adjacent to the Trinity Methodist Church at East 25th and Henry Streets.

Officers converged on the area and in a search of the building found the man hiding in a closet the attic.

The man told several different stories, claiming he did not steal the car but was just "driving it," police said.

The car had been stolen in Centerville Township and was owned by Gary Rohr of East St. Louis.

Police said another man is being sought in connection with the incident.

Victim-witness advocacy curbs crimes and reduces suffering

By BERNARD F. HILLENBRAND

Bounded by Philadelphia and the Atlantic Ocean, Burlington Co., N.J., embodies what rural America once was and what it is becoming.

Mount Holly — the county seat — is surrounded by rich farmland, two thriving military bases, and acres of pine forest. Unfortunately, with prosperity comes increasing crime, particularly sexual assault, family strife and violence.

George F. McCarthy, 58, a former Army policeman, works in the oldest functioning courthouse in the United States. It's right next door to the oldest jail.

Ironically, McCarthy is a victim-witness advocate, one of the newest professions in the criminal justice system. As his boss, County Prosecutor Cornelius P. Sullivan, put it, McCarthy's job is to "treat victims of crime like human beings and not just pieces of evidence."

For in a system like ours — dedicated to the idea that a defendant is innocent until proven guilty — there are more services offered to criminals than there are for victims of crime.

Burlington's four-year-old program is one of 700 created with federal grants from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) of the U.S. Department of Justice. And the LEAA is just one of its programs, LEAA considers it "top priority."

Ironically, creation of many similar projects in other parts of the country is unlikely. Congress and the Carter administration have called for the demise of the LEAA during the present round of budget cuts. And this, only shortly after Congress appropriated an additional $500 million to continue the work for four more years.

The agency provides only "seed money" and technical assistance, and yet these services have proven so valuable that most localities have continued them with their own funds. In Burlington, for example, McCarthy's $36,000 budget is the smallest item in the prosecutor's $1.1 million budget.

But to the people of Burlington, George McCarthy is not just another cop from the prosecutor's office. It's no wonder. After 22 years in this hamlet, he's one of their own. Thousands of people have come to look for — even depend on — his assistance in times of trouble.

Dominick "Nicky" Gachen is one among the balding policeman's clients. He is the 18-year-old son of a truck driver recently murdered by a professional killer. The crime was allegedly arranged by a wife and daughter to collect insurance money. The three conspirators are now in prison. "The son was helpless when his family broke up, so we got him some counseling, and arranged for death benefits and insurance. Then we encouraged him to finish high school and get a job," McCarthy said.

"This instance was the most dramatic that's come our way, and yet it's typical. Criminals are punished but the ones who suffer most are left behind to cope with high medical bills, property damage and a type of trauma marked by inability to cope — much less make arrangements for burial or give testimony in court," he said.

Although prosecutors lack time or resources to deal with these human problems, advocates can help.

They may simply tell witnesses when, where and how to testify in court. Or their services may include protection from intimidation, prompt return of stolen property, welfare assistance, physical and emotional care, transportation, help in getting time off from work, police training, crisis intervention and — if the state law provides — restitution for losses.

Advocates say emotional suffering is their first concern.

"I make this letter on my desk," the bespectacled McCarthy said. "It comes every three months from a young man who was beaten by burglars."

"Well, the criminals are in prison now, but they could be put on probation any time. The young man wants to know when."

Like many other victims, this young person moved away from Burlington after the trial despite local ties including family, friends and job. Advocates in other parts of the country are not surprised by this seemingly unusual phenomenon.

As Advocate Gerard M. Roesch of New Orleans explains, "Most people go around with the unspoken assumption that they are safe in their own homes. When a break-in occurs, they don't feel safe anymore. We have to reassure them they're not going crazy."

"Most victims have these feelings, particularly after sexual assault," he said.

In areas as diverse as Burlington County, New Orleans Parish and Oakland, California's Alameda County, rape, incest and child abuse now account for more than one-third of the felony victims advocates serve.

McCarthy speaks compassionately of a 38-year-old Korean immigrant, a former kitchen worker, who lost her job when she was hospitalized following a rape. Through an interpreter McCarthy obtained on behalf of the court, she is cooperating with lawyers to prosecute her attacker, now out on bail.

She has received a number of social services including counseling, disability insurance, social security, and help with immigration problems. "Last week she got a threatening call from a relative of the attacker. Fortunately, we have ways of inhibiting retaliation, but that doesn't calm her fears," McCarthy said.

"More women prosecute their abusers today because we can provide them with the support they need to handle such fear," explains Karol J. Hagan, an advocate in Alameda County specializing in spouse abuse.

Her work is not without personal danger. "Some of the places we go are not the safest," she admitted.

"I've had to wade through drug addicts three feet deep in order to get to a battered woman in a fleabag hotel. Fortunately, when I tell people I'm from the DA's office, it makes them back away a little."

If the only benefit of advocacy is more humane treatment of victims, that would be enough. But the programs yield a number of other benefits as well. Among them is an increasing number of convictions.

For example, in 1974 through 1976, 35 percent of the felony cases in New Orleans Parish were dropped because of lack of victim testimony or witnesses. By 1976, after creation of victim assistance, the "drop out" rate was reduced to between 6 and 15 percent.

Accompanying this was a decrease in police time and court time and more cooperation on the part of witnesses.

Improves the image of our office," said Prosecutor Cornelius Sullivan. "It lets people know that the justice system can be effective, or more cooperation on the part of witnesses."

Some studies have shown that lack of confidence is one reason why people do not report crime. This is particularly true among elderly victims.

New Orleans' Chief Advocate Roesch is among those who are concerned with their special needs. "The average elderly victim in a purse-snatching has to spend from $500 to $1000 to recover," he says. "They have fragile bones. When they get knocked down they have to go to the hospital."

"They have to change locks on doors. Eyeglasses — often costing hundreds of dollars — are a big problem. Checks have to be replaced. To compound the issue, elderly people get so hassled they may forget something really important...a thing that comes back to haunt them, like fraudulent use of stolen credit cards."

"If these people have families, perhaps they might help. But we are different than family. We have an official capacity. We can take their causes farther than family can because we have a well-developed system of contacts that we deal with on a day-to-day basis," Roesch said.

Thus, the LEAA program has also demonstrated flexibility in meeting local needs.

In Portsmouth, Va., for instance, staffers have enlisted support of businessmen by instituting a 15-minute telephone "alert" for witnesses. New employees don't miss excessive work time spent in court.

In Dade County, Fla., victim assistance funds provide emergency shelter and counseling for battered women.

In Pima County, Ariz., professionals and trained volunteers work with police 24 hours a day to calm family strife. Through such crisis intervention, victim-witness advocates can actually prevent crime.

Everyone is an advocate for more of that.

If your phone is broke, you have a choice.

You can spend your time and gasoline to go to the Phone Center Store or you can call Repair Service at 611 and a Repair Person will come to your residence or business location and repair or replace it free. PREVENTING DENTAL PROBLEMS IS URGED
Dental prevention is better than cure, healthier than cure, according to Neville Gilmore, professor, and David Mehlich, assistant professor, in the SIUE School of Dental Medicine. As part of the university's Gerontology Program, senior citizens will have the opportunity next week to learn about the causes of dental diseases, the treatment, and the role of the individual in dental health care. Film fest on aging

The third annual film festival on aging will be held April 18 as an aid to professionals, para-professionals, volunteers, educators and students in aging and development.

The festival, sponsored by the SIUE Gerontology Program, is an opportunity for practitioners in the field of aging to preview films which may be used for educational and training purposes, according to Anthony Traxler, director of the Gerontology Program.

"In the past senior citizens also have found the films of interest," Traxler said. "Each year we have a good turnout of senior citizens. They like to find out what's being said about them."

Some of the topics will be nutrition and aging, intergenerational relationships, the older woman, and programs and services for the elderly.

Films will be shown from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Center's Mississippi Room, with a short discussion following each film. The festival is free and open to the public.

Medicare premiums to increase in July

Twenty-six million disabled and senior citizens will be affected by a new Medicare cost increase to begin July 1. The medical insurance premium will increase from $8.70 a month to $9.60 a month, Social Security District Manager Oliver Holmes said this week.

The Medicare law requires an annual review of the cost of the medical insurance program. This law limits increases in the premium to the percentage that Social Security benefits increased in the last year.

Since Social Security benefits rose 9.9 percent in 1979, the Medicare Medical Insurance basic premium increase for 1980 is limited to 9.9 percent, or 90 cents after "rounding."

A few people pay more than the basic premium for their medical insurance protection, Holmes noted. For each year a person could have had medical insurance but did not sign up for it, the monthly premium increases by 10 percent.

These people will be notified by mail about the increases in their premiums. The hospital insurance is free to people who are 65 or have been disabled for two years and who are entitled to Social Security benefits.

Some people, however, must pay a monthly premium to get the hospital insurance protection. These are people who have not worked long enough in jobs covered by Social Security to earn the necessary coverage.

The basic hospital premium for them will increase from $69 a month to $78 a month beginning July 1. For more information concerning Medicare, Quad-Cityans may contact the Social Security offices located at 650 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis 62201, or 318 W. Main St., Belleville 62221.

The telephone number is 274-4100 or, toll-free, Enterprise 1-555.

Ill. Bell's telebriefs in new format

Illinois Bell's 3.4 million customers will receive a newly designed Telebriefs with their bills in April and future months.

The new format for the monthly mini-newspaper is the first major change in the publication since it came on the scene 42 years ago, according to Editor Dan Bilardello. The new look is designed to make Telebriefs more appealing and interesting because it will help customers find articles more easily, he said.

Telebriefs will continue to offer a variety of informative and feature material on communications services and public services, as well as articles highlighting points of interest in Illinois, he said.

The April issue contains articles about PhoneCenter Store phone replacement and repair, Illinois Bell's planned investment of a record $675 million during 1980 for telecommunications facilities; the last of the old long-distance cordboards; Kinmundy's "Pioneer Village;" and safety tips for Illinois' tornado season.

The April Telebriefs also offers free copies of the folder, "Long Distance: How to Save," as part of a story about Mother's Day calling.

Film April 15 on dying doctor

The Alton Area Chapter of Make Today Count will present the video-film "From Both Ends of the Stethoscope" Tuesday, April 15, at 7 p.m. at St. Anthony's Hospital in Alton. The film is an interview with Dr. David Peters, La Jolla, Calif., who tells of his experiences with cancer as both a doctor and a cancer patient. The film was shown on San Diego television Sept. 1, 1979, and received nationwide coverage.

Dr. Peters, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters, live in Godfrey, discovered he had a tumor eight years ago and it proved to be malignant. Dr. Peters died Aug. 18, 1979. His parents have provided the videotape for use in the local area.

Dr. Peters was the West Coast coordinator of Make Today Count and was involved in the formation of a number of San Diego and Los Angeles chapters. The film instructs physicians in the care of terminally ill patients. It is also described as a message of hope and human creativity.

All interested persons may attend Tuesday's showing.

Schools benefit from state building agency; Illinois sales, jobs down; prices, drinking up

Many Illinoisans may have heard of the state's multi-million dollar Capital Development Board but in the last seven years it has pumped $1.7 billion into new public buildings — more than half of them educational — throughout Illinois.

State Comptroller Roland Burris has taken a close-up look at the CDB — one of the key agencies created by the Illinois Constitution of 1970 — in his current monthly fiscal report.

The Burris report also details the state's financial footing and continuing revenue gains, but notes that unemployment rates in this state now stand at 7 percent — higher than the U.S. rate — and that the nation's new anti-inflation program could further agitate the unemployment outlook before the inflation rate is improved.

Here are some of the highlights of the special report on the state's Capital Development Board, now in its eighth year of existence.

—CDB spending hit a peak in 1976 under Governor Dan Walker, rising $340 million between fiscal year 1975 and FY 1976, but that surge became a shrinkage as total appropriations in FY 1977 dropped $237 million (30.4 percent), including $70 million in school grants that were not reappropriated.

CDB funding has now leveled off to about $160 million per year.

—In its first seven years, the CDB channeled $1.7 billion into new public buildings and more than half of that amount — $1.1 billion — went for construction of university, community college and elementary and secondary facilities.

—In terms of percentage, here's where the money went in those first seven years.

26.6 percent or $450 million for university buildings; 12.8 percent or $221 million for community colleges; 9.2 percent or $159 million for mental health facilities; 8.8 percent or $152 million for prisons; 5.9 percent or $102 million for parks; 7.2 percent or $125 million for other state structures, plus $26 million for other purposes and particularly for construction of port facilities in Illinois.

While there is uncertainty at many economic levels, the State of Illinois' fiscal position is unquestionably the firmest it has been in years, Burris contends.

—Revenues for the first eight months of FY 1980 are running $112 million ahead of expenditures.

—The end-of-the-month balance in the General Funds has topped the half-billion dollar mark six of the first eight months and would have done so in all eight months except for a speedup of school aid payments in November and December.

—There is currently $128 million in surplus money in the five state special funds and the five debt service funds, "all of which could be shifted to General Revenue by order of the governor at any time," Burris says.

—State income tax receipts are up $308 million or 22.7 percent over last year.

North honor society initiates fifty-five

Fifty-five students of Granite City High School North have been initiated into the National Honor Society of Secondary School Principals. This is a national organization which recognizes students for outstanding qualities of scholarship, service, leadership and character.

To qualify, a student must have a minimum scholastic average of 4.2 on a scale of 5.0 and in addition, receive high ratings in the other three areas based on a vote of faculty and administration.

Randy Schrenk, the 1979-80 president, presided over the program with Bob Slate serving as master of ceremony.

Entertainment was provided by Lila Salem, who performed a jazz dance; an instrumental group composed of new and present members, who played two selections; Kim Woodward, who recited an original oration entitled, "In My Youth I See;" a musical selection performed by a vocal quartet consisting of Rich Kindie, Charles Whitehead, Doug Ferguson and Gordon Morton; Debbie Buer, who performed a Scott Joplin ragtime medley on the piano; and Lila Hudson, who interpreted in sign language Kenny Rogers' recording of "I Wanna Make You Smile."

Gilbert Walmsley, principal of North High School, spoke to the group and presented membership cards to the initiates. Refreshments were served afterward.

Mrs. Mildred Collins and Mrs. Charlotte Gauen serve as faculty sponsors of the North chapter.

PEOPLE

The 1980 International Dinner party for 80 adult members of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council challenged the leaders of each neighborhood to create an entertaining skit and special menu related to the country they chose to represent.

District Four neighborhoods in the Quad City area accomplished this with what proved to be a fun-filled and entertaining evening for all the leaders and guests.

Lower left—Alligator shoes give Mrs. Dana Kinder a problem as she models an ensemble complete with alligator handbag in the fashion show segment relative to Italy, the country selected by Neighborhood Four.

Upper right—Neighborhood Five went all the way with an American theme. The leaders combined the popular music from "Grease" with chicken costumes and came up with a routine entitled "Chicken Grease."

Above photo—France was Neighborhood Three's preference and resulted in the idea of a cabaret scene, with leaders performing a Can Can dance.

Neighborhood One dressed in appropriate South Sea costumes to perform a "Honey Bun" dance routine from the musical "South Pacific."

One of the highlights of the evening was the performance of a Maori Stick dance by Neighborhood Two. Jennifer Dippel, a leader in Neighborhood Two, is from New Zealand and instructed her group in the song and dance, native to New Zealand people.

Neighborhood Six presented Egyptian dancers and a mummy to tell the story of King Tut.

A finale was a song by Mrs. Lowry, Gayle Wolfskill, district field adviser, and Myra Parrish, district chairman, accompanied by Larry Lowry on the guitar.

Members of the planning committee who coordinated the events for the evening included Chairman Mary Ellen Brown and Linda Skokke, Jackie Snell, Jennifer Dippel, Brenda Mikulas, Gloria Markovic, Linda LeVault, Sheryl Markel and Cindy Boelling.

Record earnings on state deposits

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino has announced that the annual spring award of state deposits of one-year duration will set a new record for interest earned. The $500 million in deposits of state funds awarded to 987 banks around the state will bring back $80 million in interest to the state treasury in the coming year, Cosentino said.

Cosentino said he is encouraged by the greater participation by banks. "We had 63 more banks join in the bidding this spring," he said. "This will help us assure fair distribution of funds all over the state."

Besides the April allocation of deposits, the second major competition for funds occurs in September, when deposits are made on the dual basis of competitive bids and the degree of participation by banks in community affairs. The two programs, plus a daily investment policy, will bring about $200 million interest into the treasury for the fiscal year ending June 30, up from $140 million last year, Cosentino reported.

In Madison County, 25 banks received $8,440,000.

HONDA STOLEN

Charles Ragan discovered that between 8 p.m. and 9:45 p.m. Monday a 1978 three wheel Honda motorcycle was stolen from a carport at 156 Troecker Lane, Mitchell. The motorcycle reportedly had Honda stickers all over it and was valued at $1,400.

'Superwalk' to aid Dimes drive

The March of Dimes Superwalk April 19 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, an 18-mile (29 kilometer) walk, will help raise money for Dimes' support of the prevention of birth defects.

Contributions collected from individuals who sponsor walkers will be used in both local and national programs of research, scholarship funds, therapy and individual victim help.

This year's chairman, Larry Meitzen, said the route that winds around and through SIUE was chosen because it is safe for walkers.

The walk will begin at 8 a.m. at the University Center. Participants are to wear comfortable, sturdy shoes, cotton or wool socks, and carry enough money for food, bus fare and telephone calls. Restrooms and water stops are available along the route.

Sponsor sheets are available at many area schools and stores. For additional information, QuadCityTimes may call 692-0888 or 692-3246.

Longest season ever at Fairmount opens Sunday

Fairmount Park will open its longest season of thoroughbred horse racing Sunday, April 13. Gates will be open at noon, with the first race post time at 2 p.m.

Besides racing on Sundays, Fairmount Park will offer races Wednesday through Saturday, with the post time 7:45 p.m. The season will consist of racing dates, extending through Nov. 22.

Holiday programs on Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day will begin at 1:30 p.m. Several new stables will be racing at Fairmount Park this year, with many horses coming in from Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs as well as from Kentucky and Florida.

Returning will be the powerful stables of Everett Hammond, second in the nation last year, as well as Raul Martinez, Jerry Hammond and Joe Sinclair. Sinclair has been racing with much success this winter in Florida.

The opening day card will be headed by the $20,000 added A. L. Oxford Stakes, as well as the $8,500 Inaugural Stakes. Both races will be run at a distance of five furlongs.

The nation's leading rider in 1979, Dave Gall, will again be riding at Fairmount Park. Gall was victorious 479 times last year, defeating his nearest rival, Laffit Pincay Jr., by 59 wins.

Gall is intent on repeating as the country's leading jockey despite suffering several setbacks early this year. While riding at Waterford Park, he suffered a broken collarbone.

After recovering from that injury, he was thrown in a workout at Oaklawn Park, injuring his shoulder. But he is now in top shape and says he is looking forward to the long season at Fairmount Park.

8 GC veterans graduate in Upward Bound program

Upward and onward is the motto of 14 students who have graduated from the Veterans Upward Bound (VUB) program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Eight are Granite Cityans.

VUB is a six-month preparatory program geared toward veterans and their needs. Individualized academic programs are used to allow students to progress at their own rates, and academic coaching is given in the areas of reading, mathematics and language.

Students may attend classes in preparation for the General Educational Development Examination (GED) and the constitution test, or in preparation for entrance into a higher education institution.

Four of the graduates took part in the GED preparation and the other 10 in the college prep program.

Students from the beginning are encouraged to enter a post-secondary institution, vocational-technical school, junior college or university, and to make use of their GI education benefits.

Any veterans in this area wishing to obtain information on the VUB program may call John Yunker or Brian Widaman at 692-3434.

Aid on college financial forms

Parents and students usually don't find financial aid forms easy to fill out, so BAC's financial aid personnel are offering to help. On Thursday, April 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the Belleville Area College Theater, help will be given in filling out the applications, and individual and general interest questions will be answered.

Deris Slocum, director of public information at the college, said, "I know there are a great many people who will be benefited by this assistance."

"I just finished filling out a financial aid form for my daughter—it was about the 50th time I have filled out that kind of form in getting three kids through college and grad school—and I still made some mistakes on it."

"If those forms are confusing for those of us who work in education, what kind of confusion must they cause for people who are trying to fill them out for the first time!"

"The growing availability of money for education as a result of the Middle Income Assistance legislation makes it important for all parents and students to learn what kind of financial assistance they may be able to get for college," she concluded.

Registration appointments

Appointment cards for SIUE summer, quarter registration may be picked up at the enrollment office beginning Monday, April 21. Distribution of the cards will begin at 8 a.m. To obtain an appointment card, students must have in their possession their most recent fee receipt card (No. 3 card).

Members of the community who are interested in taking classes at the university during the fall months are being asked to make application for admission immediately. Admission applications may be obtained in the Office of Admissions and Records located in Room 1208 of the John S. Randleman Building.

Registration for the summer quarter will be announced at a later date.

Marshall PTA to meet on April 22

A poetry hour, featuring all students at Marshall School, will provide the program for the April 15 meeting of Marshall School PTA, it was announced by PTA president, Mrs. J. L. PTA. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m. with each student reciting a piece of poetry or oration in class, the PTA officer added.

During the March meeting, Ron Keeton, special education teacher, spoke on the gifted program in the Granite City School system. A discussion also was held on the successful Spring Carnival hosted at the school as a fund raising project.

CONCERT TONIGHT

Bob DeLoe, Four of a Kind will perform a free concert at Belleville Area College at 8 tonight. The concert is the next to last in this year's series sponsored jointly by Musicians Local 29 and the BAC Division of General Services. The final concert, by the Top Brass, will be May 8.

More suits filed by construction workers

Two lawsuits have been filed in Madison County Circuit Court by construction workers who allege they fell and were injured while doing construction work near the Granite City Steel blast furnace area this winter.

Thomas Oldenberg is seeking $600,000 each from the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., Raymond Inc., listed as construction supervisor for Granite City Steel, Andco, Inc., general contractor for the work, and Wilbur Waggoner Equipment Rental and Excavating Co., Inc., said to have supplied a crane for the work.

Oldenberg alleges he was an ironworker Jan. 22 and was on the roof of the blast furnace building removing metal sheets from the crane when the metal shifted and he fell about 35 feet to the ground.

He alleges the fall broke both his feet and ankles and caused multiple injuries to other parts of his body.

James F. Dolan, a pipefitter, filed the second suit, which names Granite City Steel, Andco, Inc., and Isom as defendants.

Dolan said he was working on a metal catwalk Feb. 4 when he slipped on debris and fell, injuring himself.

The three-count suit seeks $100,000 from each of the three defendants.

Similar suits by other workers were filed earlier this year.

Is The School District Headed For Bankruptcy?

DID YOU KNOW—that our school district is projected to spend $20,000,000 this year.

DID YOU KNOW—that I have an Accounting background and experience as a Plant Controller for two major firms.

DID YOU KNOW—the board is over estimating expenses by $1,000,000 a year, so they can apply the maximum tax rate to you as a taxpayer.

DID YOU KNOW—that administration salaries are approximately $1,300,000.

DID YOU KNOW—after closing 20% of our grade schools and massive teacher layoffs the district is still in the red and will have to borrow approximately $1,200,000 this year.

DID YOU KNOW—that more schools may be closed per agenda page 321b of February 20, 1979.

DID YOU KNOW—we are spending over $1,000,000 for busing per year.

DID YOU KNOW—if we keep this leadership, we may soon be like Chicago and East St. Louis — BANKRUPT!

WE CAN CHANGE POLICY ONLY BY CHANGING LEADERSHIP!
